The Quaker

A Journal

of the Life and Experiences of the

People called Guilfordians

as drawn from the events of the year

1948-49

by those serving under

Appointment for this Duty:

BETTINA HUSTON —editor

MARIANNE VICTORIUS —managing editor

JACK TILLEY —business manager

Assisted by others too numerous to mention.

Guilford College, N. C.

Katharine Crenshaw Ricks

As a visible evidence of the friendship and kindly assistance in the true Quaker spirit which we have seen and known during our years here, we, thy friends, dedicate this book to thee.

Autumn

Human tides wax once more with Fall-darkened moon of red
And flow again beneath the trees
Through terra cotta grottos lined with desks.

Soft afternoons turn coat-and-jacket nights
And by mutual susurrus of consent
Trees catch fire and drip flickers of their flame upon the grass.

Footballs spiral across high sky over thud of leather pads
The whistle slices misty dusk and bodies drag on muscles shorn of spring
To sweaty-leather smell of locker rooms.

We offer thanks for what is past
When trees are quenched by cold, low cloud.
The tides are magnetized indoors by warmth.
Begins the season of the reign of pine.

Ninth Month "We on the campus, meet and hail familiar faces, faces new, foregathered from the separate states." RUSSELL POPE

13th . . . Freshmen were to have registered; for undisclosed reasons (some say so that Cox Hall could be complete . . . vain hope . . . some to avoid the polio epidemic) the opening was postponed until the twentieth.

18th . . . Guilford dropped their opening football game to the team which ultimately walked off with the conference crown. The few students who happened to be around a week before school started were downcast as Appalachian ran up 14 points in the first five minutes, but then watched in screaming amazement as the Quakers roared back to hold the mountaineers to a bare 21-14 margin.

18th . . . The Freshmen week staff met to plan the official welcome of the class of '52.

20th . . . With the help of the entire faculty and many of the upperclassmen, the Freshmen registered for their first semester classes.

21st . . . The Freshman class was officially welcomed, with much handshaking and refreshments, by New Garden Meeting.

22nd . . . In the evening the Student Affairs Board made its initial appeal to the Freshmen to come forth for dear old Guilford, and participate in the extra-curricular program. President Bill McCracken outdid himself both in the length and the matter of his introductions.

23rd . . . The upperclassmen returned in all their glory to renew all old acquaintances and register. After supper, the Freshman Class proudly presented its "talent," starring Tom Benbow at the piano.

24th . . . Classes met for the first time for the academic year, 1948-49. After this gruelling experience, Freshmen were herded into the gym and introduced, en masse, to the faculty of Guilford College. A formal dance followed but most of the Freshmen were too exhausted to enjoy it, and staggered home to bed, while the upperclassmen persevered.

25th . . . Guilford, on the rebound from their Appalachian setback, ripped out a 13-7 victory over Emory and Henry. Stars of the fray were Sam Venuto and Walt Moon. Venuto scored both touchdowns, while Moon played havoc with the opposing line in averaging 7.5 yards per try.

28th . . . The Student Affairs Board held its first meeting of the year. The business of the evening was a landmark in the history of Student Affairs Board Meetings; after talking about it and postponing it for years, a new constitution was finally drafted and presented to the Board for approval.

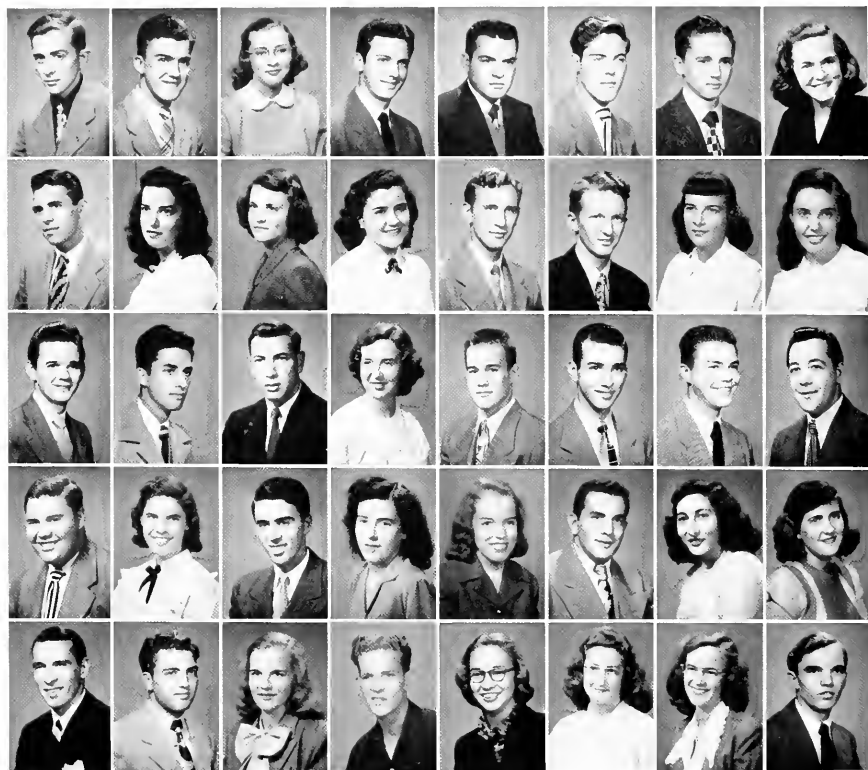

29th . . . A sad day for all Guilford football fans. The great tackle, J. Reginald Roberts, hurt his knee and was lost for the season.

Tenth Month

"Panting, swallowing, gulping the frosty autumnal air, you for a flying moment crystalize Guilford."—To the team, POPE

2nd . . . Guilford met Little All-American Chewning . . . 'nough said. Although the Quakers put up a valiant fight they could never quite manage to hold the ex-Navy star down. Final score, Guilford 12—Hampton-Sidney 19.

3rd . . . The Student Christian Association held its traditional Battleground Hike, at which time a good many unsuspecting Freshmen and a few hardy upperclassmen set forth to enjoy an evening of softball and hotdogs at the miles-distant national park. A few pikers turned up in cars to eat. Unlike previous years, everyone rode home.

Later that night, much later, on third floor Mary Hobbs Hall, Mousie Farlow and Jackie Williams put up a valiant fight against a burglarious mouse, and won.

8th . . . Intramurals were in full swing. Old

North had walloped Yankee Stadium's powerful sextet and the Redskins bit the dust before a highriding squad from Center.

9th . . . Rebounding again . . . Guilford smothered a fighting Randolph-Macon squad, 28-6. Randolph-Macon drew first blood, scoring two plays after the opening kick-off, but after that neither Randolph nor Macon could make a nickel. Led by Al "Who's that guy Doak Walker?" Johns the Quakers hit the gentlemen from Va. with everything but the proverbial goal-posts for their second victory in four starts.

11th . . . Isaac Harris, executive secretary of the North Carolina Yearly Meeting, held a hotdog roast at his home for all college Young Friends. On this night, late, some of the Freshmen boys were initiated into the ways and wiles of Guilford men—and the cemetery.

Dr. Furnas takes his novel class out to enjoy the early fall weather.

12th . . . The newly formed and optimistic Dewey-Warren Club held its first rally under the leadership of the one and only Replogle.

13th . . . The first election for May Court was held establishing Deany Belton, Jean Presnell, Jo Bray, Phil Stevens, Margie Benbow, Ada Wayne Stuart, Mousie Farlow, and Inge Longerich as campus beauties.

15th . . . The intramural race was giving the varsity sport a run for thrills, drawing power and bruises. Ferrell sparked the Clowns to a 35-6 win over the Cardinals, while the off-and-on Yankee team had slaughtered Upper Archdale 33-6. Also, New North edged Old South 12-6 and the Redskins eliminated the Cardinals 25-19.

16th . . . Looking like their opponents of years past, Guilford rolled over a hapless Gallaudet team, 45-0. Coach Newton let everybody on his bench into the game (eleven at a time), and most of them scored, Feeney pacing with twelve points.

18th . . . The May Court was rounded out by the election of Ersal Adams and a new senior, Joan Folger.

"Lujack" Coward led his Yankee Stadiumers in a 31-7 elimination of the Redskins. Then in one of the hardest played battles of the race the Clowns eked out a 27-24 victory over Center Section. Grubb led the "laughing boys" with thirteen points. Coach Toad griped loudly. In the evening the faculty enjoyed that annual function known vaguely and rather incomprehensively to students as the Faculty Banquet.

19th . . . Lower Archdale doubled their upper floor opponents score, 24-12.

Old North made it two in a row with a 33-6 triumph over New North; Skinner, Ralls, and Alexander turning it into a ball game.

21st . . . Center racked Lower Archdale, 33-6, Cook, Venable, and Presnell sparking. No gripe.

22nd . . . Coward snagged a pass as the ball game ended, lateraled to Connor, and Yankee Stadium beat New North 27-26, in the season's breathtaker. Meanwhile the mixed doubles tournament in tennis ended with champions Jean Carroll and Don Hunt defeating runners-up Jerry Watson and Charlotte Flanders.

23rd . . . The Quakers took their fourth win by clipping the Atlantic Christian bulldogs, 19-0. The game was played in a driving rain which hampered the Guilford offense somewhat, but not enough to do A.C.C. any good. The Guilfordians did their real marching in the second half, Schopp scoring twice, while Alexander, Lynch and Myers generally wrecked the opposing line. At home the first movie of the year was presented as Saturday night entertainment: Anna and the King Of Siam.

24th . . . United Nations Day brought the IRC to the fore with a tea held in the gym. Over one hundred guests were present from W.C., Greensboro College, High Point, A and T, as well as Guilford.

25th . . . The women's intramural hockey tournament started off with a hard-hitting Senior team scoring a 3-1 victory over the Sophs and Juniors. After supper the Women's Student Government offered something entirely new and different in the line of entertainment as Mary Hobbs invited Founders girls to a pajama party. Dancing, local talent, refreshments, and Miss Marlette in pajamas were highlight of the evening. While in the intramural field Coach Davis smiled as Center romped over Old South 26-8.

26th . . . The Clowns went their winning way, taking Old North to the tune of 25-19.

On October 6, Mr. Redmon, QUAKER photographer from Elkin, started taking individual portraits for the annual. Here he is shown immortalizing Charles Needley, Freshman.

On October twenty ninth the Veteran's Association sponsored a memorable Hallowe'en Carnival in the gymnasium complete with chamber of horrors, evpsy fortune tellers, and a genuine burlesque dancer. Above are the officers of the organization, left to right, A. D. Garrison, Vice-President, Bill McCracken, President; and H. T. Roeske, Secretary-Treasurer.

27th . . . Senior girls scored another victory in intramural hockey, topping the Freshmen, 4-0. With the men, despite the eighteen points scored by triple threat (fumble, stumble and fall) Covington, Yankee Stadium moved into the semi-finals with a resounding 44-36 victory over Center. (Coach Toad griped very LOUDLY).

30th . . . Albion Mills Stadium rocked on its foundations as High Point turned back the Quakers in a hair raising high-scorer, 35-27. Unable to crack the Panther Forward wall, Guilford resorted to a brand of "fake and fool'em" football which left High Point bewildered, the coaches grey, and the spectators breathless . . . Plays like Johns' fifty-five yard pass to Yarborough, Winners' eighty-nine yard dash on a lateral, and Topping's thirty-nine yarder off a punt blocked by "Punchy" Wallace, kept the Panther lead in jeopardy but never quite turned the tide.

Well, we cut their hair and stole their panther.

Eleventh Month

This month was concerned with elections and Thanksgiving (especially for Dr. Pardom).

1st . . . Campus fall elections were held; Deany Belton was chosen May Queen; Jo Carroll Bray, Maid of Honor. Alyce Valear became tennis chairman for the W.A.A. and Beverly Utley, basketball chairman. In intramurals, the Sophomore-Junior team put a 2-1 edge over a fighting Freshman squad in the third game of the women's hockey tournament, and Yankee Stadium upped with a surprise victory over heavily favored Old North, 31-19. This left Coward, Coble & Co. to face the unbeaten Clowns for the football championship.

2nd . . . "Under a cold grey November sky the Clowns rode again" as Coach George Poggioli's charges ran away from the outmanned Yankee Stadium sextet in the second half. Held to a 26-24 margin at half time, Mann, Grubb, Kaufman, Whitcomb, Luper, and Ferrell got busy and took the championship by 45-30. Coach Toad sat on the sidelines and griped.

5th . . . This day will go down in the memory of Guilford hockey fans as a day worth remembering. For the first time, as far back as anybody in this school can recall, Guilford beat W.C. on its own hunting grounds. The score: 3-0!!! Unfortunately the second team didn't do quite as well and came out on the bottom end of a 2-0 score.

6th . . . Lenoir Rhyne's surprising Bears overcame Guilford's early six point lead to hand the Quakers a 14-6 pasting. John Charles, flashy Lenoir Rhyne wingback, did most of his club's gaining, while Yarborough and Maulsby sparked our squad with runs of fifty-five and sixty yards respectively.

7th . . . The S.C.A. sponsored its annual Retreat, at which the student body in general was invited to retreat to the pasture. However it was muddy and they retreated to the gym. Mrs. Roxie Armfield King died leaving a good part of her estate to the aid of worthy and needy girls attending Guilford College in the future.

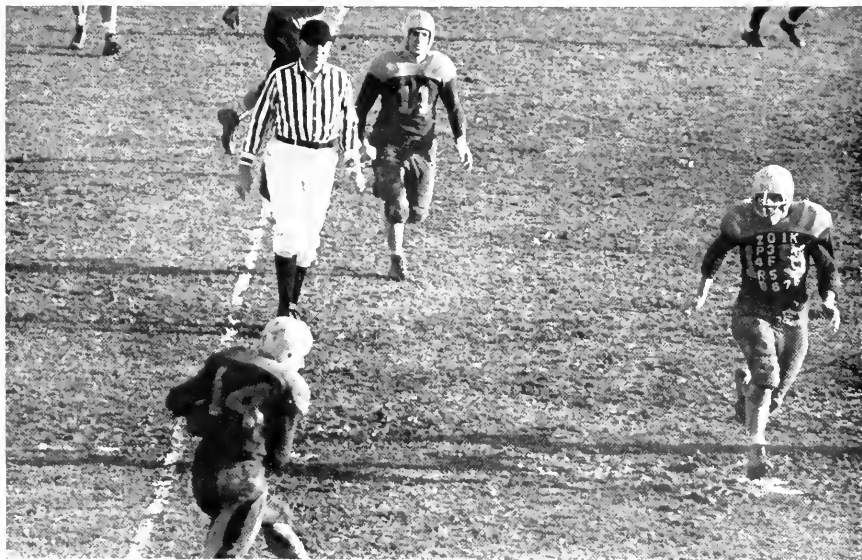

8th . . . Second quarter began; the frustration of a week of tests, papers, exams, and orals was shoved into the dim past with sighs of relief and well-meant, if soon-forgotten, resolutions to "do better" this next quarter. Freshman stick-women almost got their revenge on the previously victorious Sophomore-Junior team by tying the score 1-1.

9th . . . Bids were opened for the long awaited science building. Greensboro's contractors were given a chance to make Guilford's dream come true.

10th . . . The Freshman class met with true Freshman spirit and planned a class picnic.

12th . . . The first Founders Day in the history of the college was held on this particular date. Our founding fathers did not have the foresight to enact all their memorable business during a season when the college was in session and exams were not; however, with a little ingenuity suitable reason was found for a suitable date to be tagged "Founders." A chapel program was held in the morning, a tea in the afternoon, and a lecture program in the evening.

13th . . . We went to Catawba, and wished we hadn't. Guilford set a new record for bad breaks in going down before the Indians. We fumbled, Catawba intercepted, the referees went blind, and Spears broad-jumped the Indians to a 33-6 victory.

15th . . . The Senior girls again proved their superiority on the hockey field by defeating the Freshmen 3-0.

17th . . . The 5-1 victory of the Senior hockey team over the Sophomores and Juniors in the final intramural game of the season made the Seniors hockey champions for the year!!

20th . . . Saturday night entertainment on campus featured "Song of Bernadette."

23rd . . . Women's Student Government saw fit to give Freshman girls an opportunity to display in writing their familiarity with that complex and well-defined code of ethics by which a Guilford young lady is expected to regulate her life.

24th . . . Thanksgiving eve brought the break of the season. Dorms were open until 11:00 and everyone got Saturday night privileges!

25th . . . Thanksgiving day was all shot at six P.M. . . . Evald turned speedster for thirty yards on a punt blocked by Wallace (that's two for Punchy) and Maultsby made like a bulldozer, but Elon and the mud won out 12-0. Hanzel, Wallace, O'Briant, Withers, Smith, and Winner all turned in terrific showings in their last game under the grey and red.

27th . . . The Veterans' Club held its Thanksgiving Formal with Wiley Kiser and his orchestra furnishing the music.

30th . . . Guilford opened its 1948-49 basketball season against the McCarry Eagles. Coach Lentz tried desperately to find a winning combination but he wasn't very successful. The Eagles took this one 59-39. The game did however bring to light a potential star in Freshman J. T. Venable, who made a fine showing.

Winter

Sky glowers grey and lachrymous,
Its dark face, featureless,
Reflected in the red lacustrine bed of earth.
Sanguinary, tears splash down
The ragged gash in lacerated hillsides
To red-reflecting pools upon the plain.

Then night's north wind
Has scattered clouds to scudding ghosts.
Star icicles hang crystalline and frangeable
Upon the black of tangible night-sky.
Isobars and isotherms writhe serpentine across a continent
When white gowned northland Valkerie
Whoop their snowy chargers
Southward down the land.

A new sun gilds a country still as death,
Wrapped silent in a winding sheet
Of white soft-flowing curves.
The land sleeps quiet beneath concealing shroud.

DEAN PIKE '49

Twelfth Month In this last month, a basketball team spread Guilford's name over the state, and a magazine article over the nation.

1st . . . The newly formed French Club held its first meeting of the year. Guilford's language clubs, apparently eclipsed for the last year or so, are just beginning to shine forth again.

4th . . . Guilford visited over on the hill and got soundly whipped by the big tough tar heels. Our boys never were in the game; final score was 52-32 in favor of the Carolinians.

5th . . . Thirteen members of the S.C.A. journeyed to Salisbury to spend the day discussing "The Christian Answer to Communism." Most of those participating were more than pleased with the experience.

6th . . . Greensboro's Rotary Club entertained the foreign students of Greensboro and vicinity (including Guilford) with dinner at the O. Henry and a show at the Carolina.

9th . . . The Student Affairs Board held a hurried meeting of which the main objective seemed to be to adjourn and go to the Hanes game. The hottest team in the south, Hanes Hosiery, came to Guilford for a breather; what they got was anything but. The spectators came to see the greats, Dillion, Paxton, Hampton, and Loftis in action. But somewhere the script got fouled up. "Hook" Dillon was held to a mere 9 points by the superlative defensive work of rookie J. T. Venable, while Ralls, Chatham, Johns, and Ferrell made the big boys from Hanes look silly. The last three minutes were packed with enough excitement to last a lifetime; the lead changed no less than four times. The clock showed only one minute to play when Hampton sank a layup to put Hanes out in front 59-57. Then came the break the Quakers were waiting for. Johns was fouled and awarded two shots; he sank them both to tie the score 59 all. Hanes took the ball and came roaring down the field, but the roar turned into a weak bark as little Jase Ralls stole the ball, passed off to Jimmy (our hero) Mann who calmly dropped in a crisp shot for two points and the game. Final score: Hanes 59, Guilford 61. That night Tuckers reverberated to the cheer:

Who beat Duke? Hanes!!

Who beat State? Hanes!!

Who beat Hanes? Guilford!!

13th . . . Jean Presnell again walked away with the badminton singles championship defeating Charlotte Flanders. The now highly favored Quakers played their first conference game, and 'twas an unlucky 13th; W.C.T.C. won this one 50-44.

14th . . . Still up in the Smokies Guilford lost to the mountaineers from Appalachian, 56-58.

15th . . . Another chapter of the WAA came to an end with Wilma Sloan's volleyball team winning a close victory over Jean Presnell's in the semi-finals of the volleyball tournament.

18th . . . As usual the Monogram Club presented a highly successful and beautifully executed Christmas dance, with Harold Gale and his orchestra. Betty Hendrix, Mary Hobbs Freshman, was crowned queen of the dance by last year's queen, Jean Presnell.

20th . . . Both women's dorms were open until 10:00 to give everyone an opportunity to say goodnight and Merry Christmas. After hours parties were held at Hobbs and Founders; Santa Claus came, presents were exchanged, and refreshments were consumed.

21st . . . At 1:00 Christmas vacation officially began.

10th . . . Dr. and Mrs. Weis, affectionately known to the musical portion of our student body as "Pop" and "Mom" Weis, opened their home for the annual a cappella choir Christmas party. A genial, if somewhat slender, Santa Claus met all comers at the door to extend a welcome and launch the merry-making. Later, choir members presented Dr. and Mrs. Weis with a punch bowl and set in recognition of his friendly and able service. Then the group settled down to a hearty enjoyment of Mrs. Weis' refreshments at their best.

17th . . . Dr. Weis called the choir together for its final dress rehearsal for the forthcoming annual rendition of Handel's Messiah.

19th . . . Music lovers from Greensboro and the surrounding communities drifted to Guilford to enjoy an afternoon of the Messiah sung by a combined chorus of community, student, and a cappella singers. For two hours they listened as the heterogeneous group, under the spell of Handel and the capable direction of Dr. Weis, gave an inspired performance. Then they went home to enjoy a Christmas season enriched by what the chorus and Dr. Weis had given them that afternoon.

29th . . . The month and year closed with a hard blow. Dr. Ezra H. F. Weis suddenly passed away on this day, leaving the school and everyone he had known a little less for his leaving. He had lived his life fully to the end; the presentation of the Messiah had been its culmination. One of the final tributes to Dr. Weis as a director of music came with the invitation to the a cappella choir to sing at Dallas, Texas, before the Women's National Federation of Music clubs. The choir will attend the meeting without Dr. Weis this spring, but his labor and his spirit will be there.

When Dr. Ezra Weis passed from this campus on the 29th of December his students, past and present, united in an expression of sincere grief; in their own words:

"The choir at Guilford stands as a tribute to the hard work and talent which he put into it. I can think of no greater memorial which a man could leave for himself." "His enthusiasm will long be remembered and will serve as inspiration for all of us to do our very best to attain the goals which he set." "I'm sure that Dr. Weis never quite realized how much we thought of him and how much he influenced our lives." "Guilford College, and all of us who sang in his choirs . . . will miss him, but it is wonderful to think that the beautiful music he loved will never stop."

First Month This month was the faculty's—and exams.

5th . . . School officially opened after Christmas vacation; the student body staggered back after a hectic two weeks to settle down and recuperate in time for finals.

6th . . . Intramural basketball got off with a bang as Coon and Scott led Archdale's massacre of New North 43-13. Later that night the Married Vets edged out the Yankee Stadium five 45-39.

7th . . . Farlow and Tate starred as their Old South team easily whipped the Morons 37-23.

8th . . . The QUAKER staff, after working toward this day since the opening of school, and having nightmares all during vacation, finally got its shipment of pictures off to the engraver in Chicago. They hit an all time high in efficiency, being within a month of the deadline first set up.

10th . . . Fifty-eight seconds to play—score 55-55—and later a few hundred Guilford students left the gym wishing High Point's Ted Moran were dead. Despite the scoring work of Jace and "Hook" Venable, the Panthers overtook Guilford's early lead and emerged with a 58-55 triumph. Nuts!

11th . . . King-Hunter set to with pick and shovel and the great science building of tomorrow began to come into being. Drs. Purdom, Ljung, and Furnas stopped attending classes and appointed themselves unofficial supervisors of the construction. . . . In the intramurals, the Teague boys gave the Boiled Eggs a 30-minute treatment as the Gunners won 29-18. Old South took last year's champions, Center Section, in a heartbreaker 22-19.

11th . . . Leading by two points in the final seconds, the Quakers watched Atlantic Christian's Glazer tie the score with a long shot which shouldn't have happened outside of the movies, and then lost the game 38-36 on a stolen ball play. Hall pushed in 12 points for our losing cause, and things generally resembled a good barroom brawl, with 37 fouls being called.

12th . . . The Spanish Club met for a pleasant evening of music in the hut, a sort of escape from the horror of the rapidly approaching finals.

. . . Yankee Stadium let Milner and Topping do all the shooting and thereby beat the Community Day Hops 37-31. The Married Vets continued their winning ways by rolling over Archdale 50-20.

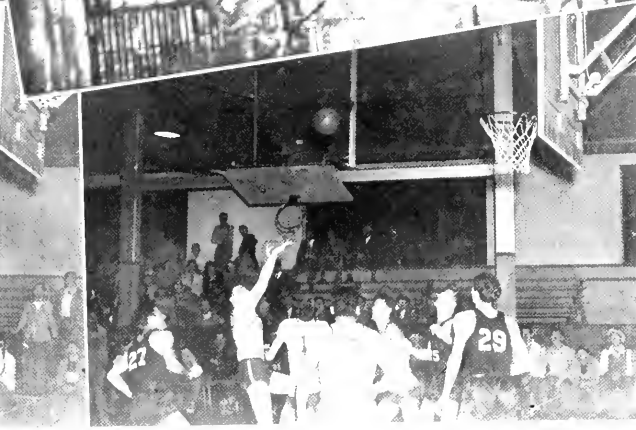

13th . . . The last day of first semester classes—this was one day it could honestly be said that more people on campus were studying than weren't. Exam restrictions went on for young ladies. Members of the Student Affairs Board took off just long enough to hold a hurried meeting in Founders Hall. Scholars burned the midnight oil.

. . . The Clowns had little trouble with Old North, winning by a 31-17 score; while the Vets eliminated Yankee Stadium in a close 28-23 game.

14th . . . The first day of exams opened with a bang, especially for those poor unfortunates who had Religion 35 in the morning and Miss Gilbert's English 23 in the afternoon. However, things are never as bad as they seem: Dr. Crownfield started the very helpful custom of openbook exams and Miss Gilbert's students pinched themselves to make sure they weren't dreaming when they left the exam room after one hour.

15th . . . Dr. Furnas' 21 exam given this morning, and some were even scheduled for Saturday afternoon. Nothing like going all out for academic work.

18th . . . Lest you forget—Mrs. Milner's psych 21 exam was held on this morning, and in the afternoon Mr. Feagins presented the Philosophy 41 class with his biannual brainstorm.

22nd . . . The last few exams were held this morning, and first semester officially ended.

24th . . . The whole school registered for a new semester—a new start—a clean slate. . . . Starting the new semester right, the Clowns clipped the Gunners 32-28. In their first appearance of the year the Quaker Hombres dropped one to Archdale 34-10.

25th . . . Second semester classes began. Elon's cracker-box gym looked like a Roman Colosseum as Al Johns and Jack Chatham led the Quakers in persecuting the hapless Christians 54-38. Everybody got in on the good time and we got our first conference win.

26th . . . The intramural Women's basketball tournament got under way with Katie Hauser's Hauser Hot Shots topping Frieda Byer's Quaker Oats 23-6.

27th . . . The Clowns continued their pace by edging Old South 30-28. The lead changed hands no less than seven times, with Tommy Bray scoring the winning basket with less than five seconds to go. Lightning doesn't strike twice but Coach Lentz and company put up a beautiful try before going down 59-54 to the mighty Hanes Hosiery club. Johns and Chatham again led the attack, and, as usual, we had it tied up in the final minutes.

29th . . . We went to Wilson, and it was awful—A.C.C. took the Quakers 61-41. Maybe the road schedule took its toll, or possibly it was because Glazer and company just couldn't seem to miss, but at any rate it sure was a licking.

31st . . . Jane Hockett's Hocketteers outscored Sarah Arnold's Big Ten 11-8 in the women's intramurals.

Second Month

"All this is as it was. Here still is Youth and simple Beauty, sober Truth."—POPE.

1st . . . Lenoir Rhyne's gym was splitting at the seams . . . the ref was ready to climb the stands after Toad . . . the stands were chanting "Block that kick" . . . and the Bears took us in the last minute 54-50. Everybody but their coach got a free shot; Johns and Wright led our boys with 12 apiece.

3rd . . . Hank almost cried and the gloom was like fog as Catawba lucked a 54-53 win. It was a bang-up, see-saw game, with Ferrell bucketing 14 points.

4th . . . Mr. Cobb spoke in chapel on famous mathematicians, and Dr. Furnas gave a Friday night lecture on south-sea island literature.

5th . . . A team of Guilford lassies participated in a basketball playday at W.C., and placed third among eight colleges which included Duke and Carolina.

8th . . . After taking a murderous, but unimportant shellacking from McCrary, the ball club headed for High Point—and something went wrong in the last few minutes. The Panthers suddenly exploded and made many points in less minutes for a 59-44 triumph. Moran's 16 points sparked the victors.

MAA Officers, Riddle, Chatham, and Ralls.

9th . . . The S.C.A. brought Rhoda "Tally" Thomas to campus to speak on the work of the World Student Service Fund and conditions in Europe and Asia.

10th . . . Senior English majors Jackie, Mousie, Deany and Bettina served at a tea for the Greensboro English Teachers Association. Charles Milner spoke and stayed over Friday to speak in chapel.

12th . . . Appalachian's league-leading Mountaineers came to town, and the Quakers came out on the short end of a 60-52 count. Causey, App's fine center, led his club to a well-played victory.

14th . . . Hall, Mann and Ralls shot from every angle, Lawhorne held Billy Wells scoreless in the last half, and the Quakers went on a last minute scoring spree to knock off Lenoir Rhyne 61-46. Founders reciprocated Mary Hobbs' pajama party with a Valentine's day celebration.

16th . . . A struggle it was, but the Hocketteers just did manage to win the women's intramural laurels, defeating the Hauser Hot Shots 11-10.

17th . . . The S.C.A. sponsored the finest exhibition of basketball seen in many a day as the Quaker undergraduate athletes downed their hated faculty rivals 26-24 (Men) and 19-14 (women). "Pop" Harvey and Chief Spencer guided the boys to victory despite the deadly "straight up" shots of Demon D'albert. In the girl's game, the stands went mad as Judy scored and Udeley shot in the wrong basket. The seniors lost all hope as Catawba took our quintet 60-49 in the Indian gym. Hall pushed through 12 points to tie the Indian's Hunsucker in scoring, but they just hit more than we did.

18th . . . The I.R.C. invited Dr. Carl Hermann Voss, noted traveler and lecturer, to speak in chapel and at the Friday night lecture on the Palestine question. Dr. Voss favored the

Zionist side, and in the evening lecture there were verbal fireworks between some of the Arabs advocates and him.

19th . . . A big day for the W.A.A. as we played host to four other colleges in a basketball playday. Top honors went to Elon; our girls, proper hostesses that they are, were content with booby prize.

19th . . . The Quakers closed their schedule with probably the most thrilling game of a wild and woolly season. We went into two overtime periods with Elon before finally walking away with a 76-65 win.

21st . . . In the contest of men's intramural leaders, the Clowns, led by Phillips and Whitcomb, overcame a half-time deficit to whip the Married Vets 43-37.

24th . . . Guilford went into the North State tourney and upset all the dope-buckets by beating the stuffing out of top-seeded Catawba.

Mann and Ralls were high scorers as everybody in Chatham Gym was hollering for the Quakers . . . Coach Lentz and Hank were carried off the floor . . . down went the barn in a burst of long awaited glory.

25th . . . 42-40 in favor of Lenoir Rhyne. This loss was softened by the previous night's activities, but it still hurt, coming in the last 42 seconds. Lawhorne and Hansard looked good in their last collegiate appearance, and generally we came out better than anyone expected at first. Dr. Shaftesbury entertained students with bird-lore in chapel and in the evening lecture. In a game that was second to none in thrills, the Clowns took the intramural basketball crown 50-48. The Married Vets twice fought back from 11 point deficits to carry it into overtime.

27th . . . Mary Hobbs girls were "at home" to the rest of the campus for the first dormitory open house.

Spring

Indecisive Spring is swept away
As North-sliding sun turns tropic
To drip pools of black shadow under trees
And around fence posts stark against the meadow.
But cloud towers lean, ominously tottering in the west,
Topple and scatter scudding grey to curtain light.
The crack of lightning arcs across the sky
And rumbling thunder tumbles down the doom-dark clouds
To boom reverberating blows against the earth.
The sun prys, tentative, as the dark drifts by Till wedge of light becomes a widening ray
That bursts upon the glittering birth of verdant earth.
The dolorous mocking bird becomes an allegretto.

DIAN PIKE, '49.

Third Month

In this month it rained,—tests, spring fever, red mud, and rain.

5th . . . The Barter Theatre returned to Guilford for the third time, following up Shaw's Arms and the Man, and Twelfth Night with their own version of Hamlet. As to the intrinsic merit of this version, controversy raged for days. Hume Cronyn was a decidedly unconventional Hamlet, but that he may have been a superior one was the opinion of more than a few amateur Shakespearcan critics. For the rest, he wasn't quite romantic, quite melancholy, or quite emotional enough. Miss Gilbert's 36 class amused themselves by checking speeches, soliloquies, acts and scenes; there were some informed people in the audience.

6th . . . The public finally saw just what the recent remodeling project had done to Cox as the two boys dorms held open house.

10th . . . A tea was held in Founders for Greensboro's own Robert Marshall of Squire Jim fame.

11th . . . Dr. Crownfield held forth at the evening lecture on "Religion and Science." The small group who attended was very favorably impressed; sometimes it's definitely to the student body's disadvantage that Friday night lectures are so poorly attended.

12th and 13th . . . The North Carolina Young Friends held their annual conference at Guilford. Some 116 prospective college students registered for the affair.

14th . . . As usual, Jean Presnell succeeded herself as Guilford's champion badminton player in defeating semi-finalist, Phyllis Stevens, in the women's singles badminton tournament.

THE SCHOLARSHIP SOCIETY. Jack Tilley, Inge Longerich, Hovle Alfred, Eldora Haworth, John Jones, Carl Erickson, and Bettina Huston. Mrs. Betty Nunn Moon and Bill Caudle were both absent when this picture was taken, and junior Marianne Victorius had not yet been recorded as a member.

16th . . . The Flanders-Strang team proved themselves Guilford's champions in the women's doubles badminton tournament, winning their last match against runners-up Haworth and Benbow.

18th . . . Marked the beginning of the last W.A.A. sponsored tournament, this time mixed doubles. A bit of statistical figuring revealed the success of the varied program of the W.A.A. by proving that 77 per cent of all Guilford women eligible to take part in sports have participated in one or more of its activities.

Mr. Feagins couldn't quite see his way to making first period class (philosophy 42) this morning,—just one of those little blessings that occasionally come the way of poor, harassed seniors. After giving him a generous four minutes and 59 seconds, Reg Roberts once again demonstrated his capacity as an academic leader, by being first in the general exodus to Hallowell's—and breakfast. His parting words of warning before taking off across campus were, "Remember the story of Lot's wife, and don't look back," a bit of advice which the senior class could well leave behind for all underclassmen who give late teachers their allotted number of minutes and then take off.

19th . . . The second formal dance of the Penguin Club's existence was enjoyed by a rather exclusive group of Guilford and Greensboro couples.

22nd . . . The Guilford College A Cappella Choir gave its home concert; and the college and community got a preview of what groups in Texas and the intervening territory will enjoy this vacation.

25th . . . Spring and school have never mixed very well, and it was with a sigh of something more than relief that both students and faculty welcomed the advent of spring vacation which commenced at 4:40 today.

At the moment Coach Newton has some forty men out for the old horschide and pop bottle sport and they look a lot better than their fourth place finish of last year. Still hanging around from last year's squad are Chatham and Stewart at first, Stamey at second, Ballinger for short, Hall at third, and Jones, Ralls and Maultsby in the outer garden. There should be a grand scramble for backstop position with Davis, Ferrell and Atwood all still present. And strong mound action should be plentiful with a staff of Wolf, Phillips, Dave Smith, Powell and Fred Bray. In addition to the old guard, newcomers Venuto, Enochs, and Ringler in the infield; Smith and Simmons as hurlers and Cook to chase flies should do nothing to hurt the Quaker cause. Says Coach Newton, "I think we will be able to give anybody a rough time." Say we, "We hope so, Coach."

This graduation will see head Coach Newton leave with the class with which he came to Guilford's scarred athletic fields. We won't go into Coach's win-loss record or his biography . . . to anyone who's ever read a football program that should be old stuff . . . but for the QUAKER Sports Staff (Duckor and Cochrane) and the class of '49 we would like to give old Doc a sincere vote of thanks and well wishes. Doc came to a school where sports had almost passed out of existence during the war . . . and where football teams were conceded a moral victory if they scored. Since then we have lost some ball games, a few by heavy margins, a lot more by the Guilford last-minute specialty method. But we have also won a lot, which was once an unheard of occurrence around here. The transposition from the time in '45 when we got headlines for losing to Catawba by only 33-6 to the game when Milligan went wild because they had scored on us furnished many thrilling memories for a lot of us . . . and it is largely to Doc, a master strategist, and well-liked coach that we owe our thanks.

Fourth Month

"The dogwood blooms and breathes again a sweeter prayer than ever I could pray."—POPE.

5th . . . Spring vacation ended and second quarter of second semester (the end of the end) continued. Seniors settled down in earnest to the theses that were to have been written during spring vacation; comps, speeches, and spring fever managed to occupy most of the students for the next few days.

15th . . . "O woe! O woeful, woeful, woeful day!

Most lamentable day, most woeful day,
That ever, ever, I did yet behold!"

Note: Faculty regulations of Guilford College under "Senior Thesis"—"The first draft must be submitted to the member of the faculty directing the study by April 15."

16th . . . The social committee scheduled a barbecue for enthusiastic members of the student body.

19th . . . The W.A.A. held its annual banquet at which the more athletic portion of Guilford's young ladies were feted and awarded letters. All women students, except the 29 eligible who have never felt called upon to offer their talents to the college women's athletic program in any capacity, were invited.

23rd . . . The Monogram Club initiated its new members at the one and only, inimitable, KKK affair.

28th . . . This day is set off in the eternal memory of Guilford College as that on which the Kiss-Me-Quick was removed from the campus forever.

30th . . . According to tradition the seniors and freshmen were honored, each according to their merits.

Jo and Frisco Bray

Every graduating class has its spirit -a vague, indefinable something which sets it off in the hearts of its graduates as individual. Ours is the spirit of this and that, of high school grads and antebellum vets, of love's young dream and the reality of passion flats, of giddy youth and responsible maturity. Ours is the spirit of all that has been associated with graduating classes since colleges began, mingled with all of life. In the history of Guilford College we are unique,—in size, in spirit, and in nature. Symbolic of us and of our spirit are Jo and Frisco Bray, the first married couple ever to graduate from Guilford in the same class. And to them we dedicate these last few pages of our book.

Fifth Month "How swift . . . since first we turned from home to thee have passed the years on Guilford's campus."—RUSSELL POPE.

7th . . . May Day, and in the early grey dawn the far side of the campus came to life, presenting its own inimitable version of the traditional May pageant. Later W.A.A. honored Deany and her attendants with the annual May Day ceremony, and in the evening a formal dance was held in the gym.

20th . . . Final exams began; for the class of 1949 that "final" was literal,—blessed thought! This is one phase of school life, at least, about which no one sighs sadly, "Ah, never again!" A few of the more elite graduates, excused from exams, settled down to really enjoy their last days at Guilford, but for most of the school the next eight days might well be characterized by Churchill's immortal phrase, "blood, sweat, and tears."

27th . . . The end of the end. By this day freshmen had become sophomores; sophs, juniors; juniors, seniors; and seniors, alumni (or practically).

29th . . . Baccalaureate services were held for the graduates, their families, and their friends. Resplendent in caps and gowns, the class of '49 entered to join together in their last "chapel" program.

30th . . . Graduation day; the largest class in the history of Guilford College bid farewell to its Alma Mater, and wished Godspeed to the classmates who will join them in August.

Epilogue

The road draws to a close of perspective

On the horizon

Of trails we'll emblazon

But goals are lost on the shoals of humanity

And ways are uncertain

It seems often there is no means of entelechy

Behind future's curtain

We stand poised on life's strand with our burden

Man's load of futility

But the ledge unharmed by sledge will loosen

As root fullfills destiny

And man goes on, the glory and the curse

Of this eternal whirling universe.

Fabrics for the Home

The production of better type fabrics has grown to tremendous proportions in the South. Paralleling this outstanding progress made by the textile industry has been the resultant higher standard of living.

Burlington Mills is proud to be a part of this progress . . . proud of the fact that this Company has invested millions of dollars in the future of the South. By ever-expanding its own production, Burlington is contributing to the rapid increase in business activity — the yardstick of prosperity. For economic stability, Burlington maintains a program of financial soundness, reflected in its net worth of over $100,000,000.

Through this extensive program for economic progress, Burlington Mills' 33 plants have been able to produce the best possible products at the lowest possible prices. These quality fabrics are truly "woven into the life of America." That's why over 23,000 employees are going forward with Burlington Mills.

Will we...

...keep our place in the world?

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA—first among nations in national income! First in production of wheat, corn, cotton, petroleum, coal, and iron! First in communications, in motor vehicles per capita—first in many essentials to good living and prosperity.

And directly related to that position of leadership is our standard of education—for it has been shown that a country's wealth and welfare rise along with its educational standards. And countries rich in natural resources can be poor and backward without the benefits of education.

Yes, the United States is a leader in the field of education too—but for how long? Appalling conditions prevail today in many of our schools. Many of our most brilliant teachers are working against odds—crowded classrooms, shortages of equipment and textbooks, long hours. . . . Thousands have left the profession for other work.

You, and every United States citizen, will suffer from this situation, because it cannot help affecting our national prosperity before long.

WHAT TO DO?

Today—make it your business to take these two steps: 1. Check up on educational conditions in your local schools; 2. Back up and work with organizations seeking to improve teachers' working and living conditions. For only by keeping our educational standards high can we hold our place in the world—and assure a prosperous future for our children.
